Obesity in the UK is killing millions and costing billions! In the last 30 years there has been a 380% rise in obesity and as many as 30,000 people die prematurely every year from obesity-related conditions, costing the NHS in excess of £5 billion and the UK £30 billion per year. Obesity Action Campaign supports scientific research into prevention of obesity-induced diseases and aims to educate families and expecting mothers in the hope of reducing its rising prevalence. It also aims to raise political awareness of obesity and its adverse health consequences.
